Our Cover

A world blanketed in snow provides the perfect opportunity for staying indoors and firing up your station. Remember, any contacts you upload to Logbook of The World this year count toward your point totals for the year-long Volunteers On the Air (VOTA) event (www.arrl.org/volunteers-on-the-air). Winter is also a time for planning projects, and this issue has fodder for you in the form of antenna and station projects, as well as a look at what remote operating has to offer.
